Subject: Regarding changes in the upcoming syllabus of BA III Political Science

Sir/Madam,

With reference to subject cited above, I would like to suggest following changes in upcoming syllabus of BA III Political Science which is going to revise and implement from 2024-25.

Inclusion of content : Concept of National Interest

Description:

In the current era most of the nations are aggressively protecting their national interest rather than international values. For examples, USA want to protect native interest. Russia wants to protect their boundaries from the NATO interference through attacking on Ukraine. Also, India considered strongly Indian Knowledge System in the upcoming NEP policy. Its all shows that concept of national interest is now stronger than global interest. So, it is necessary to include concept of national interest in the syllabus of International Politics Paper No. 9 for better understandings of International Politics. Please consider the same. Details are enclosed.

Thanking you,

Asst. Prof. D. S. Kshirsagar
